

Broken

by Roland Albertson

Watching you slowly, I see you're troubled
I can't believe that you're leaving
Walkin' there slowly for the east train
Yeah, time is a killer when you're waiting

'Cos I believe that you're leaving
And I can see that you need me
I thought I saw you
But you better not see what you left behind

Oh but now you're gone and your job has won
Yeah your mind's made up, no more time for us
And there's just one thing I can't deny
Oh, that seeing you will take a long long time

Yeah but some things just never change
Oh yeah everything will be just the same
And I find it hard when I realise
That you'll think of me and you'll try and forget

I said, why ... do you leave me with this broken heart
I said, why ... do you leave
Do you leave

I said, why ... do you leave me with this broken heart
I said, why ... do you leave
Do you leave
Do you leave
Do you leave
Do you leave

Do you leave
Do you leave
